DETAILED ACTION

1. This is the second office action for Application No. 10/693,716. This application contains 8 claims numbered 1-8.
2. Applicant is reminded that all amendment filed on or after July 30, 2003 must comply with revised 37 CFR 1.121. Currently claims as presented are not submitted on a separate paper and the status identifier of the claims as indicated "amended" are incorrect. They should be "currently amended".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1, 3-4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 5,369,925 to Vargo.

Regarding claims 1 and 3-4, the claimed invention reads on Vargo as follows: a post protector comprising a barrier (10) having contiguous front and rear portions wherein the rear portion has two extended support portion (35, 38, Fig. 2) extending horizontally rearwardly significantly beyond the post from each side of the post; and the front portion has two vertical panels (17, 22) extending respectively forwardly from the rear portions away from the post and together forming a vertical prow-like vertex connection there between.

Regarding claim 6, Vargo also shows the barrier having oblique vertical bends between the front panel portions and respective adjacent extended side support portions (21).

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 4,088,229 to Jacoby et al.

Claimed invention (1-5) reads on Jacoby et al. as follows: a barrier (Fig. 2 or 5) having contiguous front and rear portions wherein the rear portion has two extended support portion extending horizontally rearwardly significantly beyond the post, the barrier also having a securing means (35a) interior thereto between two front vertical panels and the post 17 and the front portion has two vertical panels (45c, 46c) extending respectively forwardly from the rear portions away from the post and together forming a vertical prow-like vertex connection there between (47).

Regarding claim 6, Jacoby et al. also shows the barrier having oblique vertical bends (45) between the front panel portions and respective adjacent extended side support portions (21).

Regarding claims 7, Jacoby also further shows the securing means (48, 49) and between the barrier rearwardly extending portions (48, 49) and adjacent the front vertex prow-like connection.

Regarding claim 8, Jacoby et al. also shows a central beam portion at the bottom (the base plate 35 generally) being secured to the floor.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 7/19/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant has further amended independent claim 1 and other dependent claims 2-8 and pointed to alleged differences between the prior art and his invention based upon amendment introduced into claims. However, these claims still stand rejected based on Vargo and Jacoby et al.

Independent claim 1 has been further recited to include language such as the barrier rear portion has an extended support portion extending horizontally rearwardly significantly beyond the post. However, examiner respectfully asserts that both Vargo and Jacoby et al still show these limitations as pointed out in the office action. It should be noted that the recitation "significantly beyond the post" is not a positively limitation. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
